

THURSDAY EVENING, JAN. 29.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE EVENING WORLD

Vol. 81...... No. 10,754

at the Post-Office at New York as second

FORLD UPTOWN OFFICE-1287 BROADWAY, between Bed and 22d etc., Now York.

Spartment, 100 East 1250M ST.; Advertise-souds of Set Fast 1152M ST. III.ADEL.PHIA, PA.-LEBORN BUILDISS, 112 SOUTH CTM ST. WASHINGTON—610 14TH ST. W OFFICE-83 COCKSPUR ST., TRAVALGAD

ng one Jacob Van Ness to recover eur method, and Dr. GIBIER presd a bill for $150. The boy's father is, and offered to compromise for $50 Then Dr. GIBIER brought suit and the case

ly will deny the right of a doctor to fix a price for his services, but it cannot be denied that there has been recently a deal of injecting for all sorts of diss, and that in many instances it has been purely experimental. Injection for bis is by no means a certain cure. well known in bundreds of cases re people have been bitten and where was not the slightest danger of hydrois, that, because after being injected they did not die, a great howl of exuitation has gone up, and they have been added to t of trophies which is flaunted in the

When Dr. GIBIER's Institute was opened in this city there flocked to him a score or more of patients a day who were suffering with anything from the scratch of a cat all promptly injected, beautiful stories were inted about them in the newspapers, and ently in great rejoicing. This continued we must have been treated some reds of people. Hydrophobia was a topic of conversation and Dr. GIBIER and his institute was beautifully advertieed. The fact that none of his patients died of hydrophobia indicated two things that they might not have died anyway and that the fluid used for injection was not ly in its effects.

Coming down to records, deaths from a are very rare. When one our is to printed all over the country. and it is doubtful if in the whole of the big d States there are a score of deaths from hydrophobic in a year. In New York City and Victnity two a year is a good ee. Now, this is fair testimon of the hundreds of patients treated by the Pastour method only a very faint on ran the slightest danger of death. Perhaps Mr. Van Nuss, realizing this, thinks that one hundred and fifty ars is too much for one poor man to ate to this experimental system, and really believes that his boy was only benefited fifty dollars' worth. This, however, will rest with the jury.

BAPID TRANSIT A STEP MEARER. use it was feared that otherwise the Re not being the case, he wished to have it re

Senator Fasserr was foremost in oppo ing the suggestion. He made this truly ate Legislature and allowed to pass with out remark. Senator Fasserr declared have a poor chance of getting through the

Such a statement needs no comment. It unts to a declaration that the interests of the community have no chance of sucsee if they clash with those of two wealthy orporations. The wonderful thing is that tional tracks and of granting terminal facilities, if in their judgement it is to th enefit of the public. It is certainly good to have Rapid Transit, and the Senate evidently thought so.

CITY IMPROVEMENTS.

ody can object to beautifying the city Central Park and the broad Seventh ave

The plans for Macomb's Dam Bridge id also be liberal and suited to the exies of the public in regard to that Then comfort and luxury may merit atten-

TANGLED WIRES.

The ravages of Sunday are still unre-paired. Never have the telegraph men had not tangled wires to deal with. Hampily

Telephone wires are still in a deplorabl ondition. Their absence is greatly felt The work is progressing favorably, however. The great lesson is that the wires should be buried to avoid such an irritating state of affairs again.

eemed to most thoughtful people one to be classed with the endeavor to discove perpetual motion or the attempt to square the circle. There is a little more feasibility about it, however. A man after sixteen years has perfected a bag of hydrogen gas that can be steered around in a ball. The time will never come when a large flying The loose-fronted coat is worn, but always machine can be guided against the currents

There is every reason to think that the front. Senate will pass the Police Matrons Bill. The Cities Committee has reported favorably on it. The Assembly Committee or Public Education will also report favorably on Assembly SULIER's bill for extra accommodations for the workingmen who attend the Free Lectures. This is good.

A thief not over forty, who has served long terms in prison, and who has managed in the intervals to get away with a million dollars in "swag," is certainly a notable figure in the annals of roguery. This is the record of one Cumminus, lately arrested Wealthy people who steal are kieptoms niacs. A rich woman has passed counterfeit money, but she is mane. Crime and riches can be associated apparently only through some cerebral defect.

A man has died at the age of one hundre and five years. Nobody can accuse this sturdy Irishman of precipitation in shuffling off the mortal coil.

The Elks have suspended JOHN L. SULLI-VAN. Can it be that they think the Bostos wonder a bad actor?

SPOTLETS.

It seems a pity that other people on a Pullme

The higher the tip the waiter gets.
The lower the bow that bleach:
The higher the factions the lady sets,
The lower she wears her dresses.

Leland Stanford can look at any hotel-man's shirt

Fire-laddies will run after the bell now as easer! If the experts would only device a cream the orange grove must begat ! Bellowing through a telephone no

WORLDLINGS.

Judge Poffer, who succeeds Ingalis in the Senats from Kansas, is a Mason, a Knight of Laber and a member of the Episcopal Church. He wears a long, full beard that gives him the venerable appearance

Thomas W. Phillips, of New Castle, Pa., who we elected to Congress at the late election, ones test a fortune of nearly $1,000,000 that he had made is the oil fields of the Kerstone State. He has since strieved this lost fortune and is again one of th sotive to run in the South was built The first locomoute so ran in the mouth was built loo large, and a naturally sweet expression in New York from plans furnished by a citizen of the little flat toques, nearly the shape of a Charleston, S. C. It was called the "Best Friend," brimless sailor hat, are becoming, covered and was placed on the Charleston Ratireed in 1835.

Benator Carilale is now fifty-five years eld. He is of medium beight and rather spote in figure. His morements are easy and graceful, and his genia

VACRANT VERSES.

Myoptic Eschutology. Laying aside my glance coor, kind squires to halt, myoptic eyes, Blundering among burred chare, I poor into the dim, dall-twinkling stice, Some day, 'mid these faint lights adrift, Wandering pass all fancy far. My spirit shall its journey thift-grom half-seen star to half-seen star.

And this daft feer fantastic starts:
"In those blurred worlds what shall I do,
Lecking the firm anterial parts
To hang my would glasses to?"
To hang my would glasses to?"

A Difference. Yesterday she turned away, Everything seemed dark and gray— Now soe is my fances. Life seems all a holiday. I don't want it yesterday, And it's not.

Now my hair has turned to gray.
And my wife's long bills I pay.
Life don't seem a heliday—
Even. now. I sadiy say.
Oh, that it were yesterday!
But it's not.
—Sherman Morse, in Life.

Accepted. Dear Sir: Of late,
I beg to atate,
You've made me very tired;
For every line
Or joke of mine
That men have se admired—
At least, so far as I'm concerne
You very promptly have return
Till now, I feer, the flame that
Has very near expired.

By Jove! I'll write

Some ines to-night—
I've found the true solution!

A simple scheme—
I know the theme
I'll put in execution.
I'll try my hand at something new.
My pray's subscription now is due;
I'll write check to send to you—
You it take that somethistion!
You it take that somethistion!

"Jonathau's Military Night." On next Wednesday evening, Feb. 4, "Poor Jonathan" will be performed in the Casino for the especial delight of resident Generals, veteran soldiers and Colonels of our city regi-ments, accompanied by their staffs. The occasion will be called "Jonathan's Military sion will be called "Jonatian's Military Night," and all of the boxes will be occupied by the following numed gentlemen: Gen. W. T. Sherman, Gen. Sickles, Cot. Camp. Twenty-second Regiment; Cot. Seward, Ninth Regi-ment; Cot. Scott, Eighth Regiment; Cot. Cava-naugh, Skry-ainta Regiment; Cot. revividge, Twen-ity-thira Regiment; Cot. revividge, Twen-ity-thira Regiment; Cot. revividge, Twen-ters; Capt. Wilson. Second Battery; officers of Troop A Cavatry, Twelith Regiment, Sev-enth Veterans and members of the Old Guard.

Invented by a Saint. "No, my dang let, I cannot let you dance below the Harlem is now re-This was certainly one of the have worked like beavers to get things THE WAYS OF WOMAN FAIR

Fads, Fashions and Fancies That Delight the Gentler Sex.

The problem of serial navigation has Close-Fitting Jackets in Favor-Becoming Hats-Pet Asps Wanted -To Prepare Onlone-Mrs. Stanford's Opal Collar.

> snug in the budy and very large of sleeve. with deep revers that are lined with fur and The tight-fitting English jack-t is double-

Stenographers and typewriters can be had in punches at $4 a week. Cooks at $50 a month annot be found to supply the demand.

Among the crown jewels owned and worn by Mrs. Stanford is a collar of opals with large pendants of the same stone and earrings to match. Another is a collarette of solitaire diamonds, from which, in every color of the rainbow, gleam and scintillate three deeppendants, so arranged that when worn the entire front of the neck is bidden beneath a flashing cascade of light, changing with every movement of the wearer. Earrings, bracelets and rings of diamonds match this, and are still preserved in their quaint old-world setting. The only stones of necklace, earrings and bracelets of amethys'. In the portrait painted by Bonnat, which hangs n the second parior of the K street mansion in Washington, Mrs. Stanford wears the disnond necklace above described, with a tiars rowning the coronet dressed colffure.

When a widow marries she never wears white, nor would she wear orange-blossom She does not have bridesmaids. It is no usual to remove the ring of her first marriage the second ring is put on above it.

carefully prepared, rinse the mouth with of potash to 1 ounce of water would be the pro portion with which to rinse the mouth.

If the caterors are to be taken as authority. pairician New Yorkers are not pie eaters. We are unable to prepare the dish you de sire, " a Fifth avenue caterer wrote in answe o a lady's order for three mince pies.

For those who have regular features, no too large, and a naturally sweet expres plainly with silk or other material. In the saucily erect.

Society women are moving woods and dell nd sylvan abodes to find a spot where groweth the map that will not sting, neither be cold. or commy. It is the style to have a pet asp or two, and if some will only be dis covered in a state as cooing and amiable as that of a carrier dove or a homing pigeon, what more could the goddesses ask?

Bowling is extremely popular for ladies this wear loose fiannel blouses, straight skirts and tennis shoes, and the record-makers roll with-

Florence M. Adkinson writes a letter in the Woman's Journal depicting the borrors of time if we are ever to accomplish anything, the "sweating system," which have been told and I see no reason why I should not test the ooften yet remains a blot on the labor system of our country. She says:

from 50 cents to $1, but in order to re ceive this sum the worker must perform certain task-so many pleors of work. This task is beyond the ability of any girl to perform lu any decent work day, or at any reasonabl legree of swiftness. To do even a portion o norning and work until late at night. Even se hours it is the exception when a worker anishes her task in a day, but she is not paid for a day until the allotted task is fully completed. So that, even with these inhuman hours and the frightful rate of speed with which these girls worked, one day's work though doing six and often even seven days' work of from sixteen to eigsteen bours duration, they rarely received more than four the aweaters an injustice. There is not a fac-tory in the city where work begins at 5, or even 6 o'clock, in the morning, and is continued sixteen bours a day. If Florie will take a peep at the Rivington street slop-shops, which perhaps furnish the best line of "horrors" for newspaper paragraphs in the country, she will and work begins at 8 o'clock sharp, that "the sweaters pay so much" a piece, that the regular pay-day comes twice a month, and that the heat and light are turned off and the shop

Phenomenon of Daily Occurrence From Life.] Teacher-How long can a human being go fithout air?

The Painful Difference.

Rembrandt Daub-You should not be disouraged, my boy, if the Academy do n't hang your picture; art is long. Hogarth Palette—That's just what makes me tired; art is lone, and—I am short.

THE GLEANER

At least one hundred and twenty-five of the big poles which were rendered useless by the recent storms I am told will not be used again, but will be forever removed from the streets that they have disfigured. This has been made possible by the completion of the through has of suppass in Lexington and Fourth avenues from Harlem to Twenty-third street.

breasted and secured by frogs across the distinguished f-miles in the State, and whose gelical work among the Four Hundred!

> Those who know Mr. John Armstrong Chan ler only slightly fancied he had no greater claim to distinction than being related to the Astors and being the husband of Amelie Rives But the young fellow has shown that he has a good deal in him by this settems for collecting a fund for giving American aspirants for

> There is much truth in the old adage that "politics make strange bedfellows." I can remember when John D. Crimmins was one of the bitterest foes that Mayor Grant coul boast. He is now on a pleasure jaunt through the Souto in a private car with the young man whose portrait he wanted removed from public office some time ago.

Court, is at present very much interested in the d-tails attending the erection and furnishing of his magnificent new hotel at Fifth ave nue and Fifty-ninth street. He can be found there every morning at 7 o'clock supervising the work. The Judge personally planned the arrangement of the botel interior, and has, se lected every bit of furnishing for the new ho eiry. I am told that Judge Dugro cleared pearly $100,000 in his real estate transaction

President Strong, of the Orpheus Society, set him trained so that he obeys the least tells me that at its next concert the Club is going in for the encouragement of American composers, and that every number on the programme, both instrumental and vocal, will e the work of a citizen of the United States. Mr. Arthur Mees, the director, has made some capital selections, and a number of the works to be given will be heard in this country for the first time. One of these is chorus for male voices, with full orchestral accompaniment by Templeton Strong. It is entitled "The Haunted Mill," and is full of originality and rich descriptive writing. there are also two new a capella songs by E. A. Macdowell, which have never been beard here before, and which are gems in their way. Dudley Buck, Homer N. Bartiett and Car Walter are also represented.

I was sorry to learn that Internal Revenue Collector Ferdinand Eleman had engaged in barroom quarrel last Saturday evening. Pres dent Harrison's Administration has had quite enough to bear because of the misconduct of hts appointees, and Collector Eldman really should not have added to the burden. Max Roemer, a Democrat, was the Collector's opplace in a beer saloon on the corner of Second avenue and Third street. The only injury little permanganate of potest. About 15 grains | inflicted was that to the reputation of a United > who firmly believed in American opera by accomplished within a very few years with project that has been his particular hobby for a number of years past. He assures me that if he could secure eight or ten first-rate untrained volces, or sufficient to form a double gratuitously to training them for the operatic stage. It might take two or three at the end of that time he believes that he would have a company with a repertory of say half a dozen operas that would astonish some of our managers. Everything, of course, would depend upor getting the right sort of material, and only those who would have the patience and pluci to go through a long course of training, both in vocal and gramatic art, would be desirable "I am determined to make the attempt," says Mr. Sweet, "although some of my friends tell bility. We must make a beginning here som practicability of my scheme."

CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA.

An Italian Professor Who Says This

Another possible triumph of medi cal science over disease is suggested by a paper read before the Detroit Medical Association recently on "Ali-mentation in Therapeutics," in which was announced an important discovery by Signor Vincente Marcano, of According to Signor Marcano there b In the common pineapple a ferment or principle, similar to pepsin, of such remarkable strength that the juice of a single pineapple will digest ten pounds of beef. If this proves true a new and important agent in the treat ment of dyspepsia has been discovered As nearly all other diseases are directly influenced by the degree in which food can be assimilated, and as millions of people have imperfect digestion, the possibilities of this discovery are almost limitless. If it proves to be as represented. But even more striking was the further announcement in the same paper, written by a practical chemist, that the juice of the pineapple is a very active solvent of the membrane formed in diphtherin. The pineapple is a wholesome fruit without regard to these striking features as ribed to it, and experiments upon the lines suggested will be easy and safe. rectly influenced by the degree in Rheumatic Pains of the blood which causes rheumatism, and gives vitality and strength to the whole system. The by licod's Sarsaparilla is the strongest re-

Hood's sarsaparilla Sold by all drusgists. 61: six for 86. Prepare

A COMBINATION OF CIRCUM STANCES.

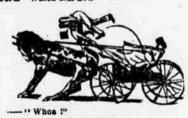

Showing Off the Pacer.

" He's not only speedy. Uncle Nate, but I've

Miss Bleecker-No, I've been awfully inter-

Guesses at Truth.

He-Here, darling is the ring. I've had Mizzah " engraved in it.
She—What floes that mean, John?
He—On, li's the tint / for engagement rip ou know-believe it means "When shall hree meet again?" or something like that,

Where, Indeed!

Very Rade Boy-Say, you beginners ought to have a pond for yerselfs. Where'd yer be if one of us exaters runned inter per?

A Dear Little Thing. [From Munery's Weekly.]

As Far as She Would Go. Dotley-Will you marry me, Amy? Amy-No; but I-

Dolly (interrupting)—Oh, don't get off that
"be a sister to me" caesinut!
Amy-I don't intend to. What I was about to say in that I don't mind being engaged to And She Got It. [From Harper's Baser.]

"It's money, money, money all the time !" growled Mr. Myser. "Notoing but money." " I'm glad to hear that," returned Mrs. M. meekly. "I'd begun to think it was money at no ime. One hunder bilars will do me tan "A STRAIGHT TIP!

The performance now current at the New Park Theatre will in all probabl hundreds of people whose langs it is not diff cult to capture and who live variety entertainments adulterated with the semblance of situations. Attaough "A Ser-ight Tip" is not to be compared with its presentator Dazzier," it has one or two specialities that are very bright. I attribute all the brightness to the reputed author, John J. McNally, and all the non-brigh ness to the labored work of specialty introduction,
"Your father reminds me of a burglar. I on't see where he comes in," says Dick Dasher, who has all the fat of the piece. That for a fare -comedy, as anything on the earth. or in the aravens above, or the waters benearly can come into a farce-comeur, and no- ald. oly would dare to ask way. There is everything in "A Straight T.p." You ray your the little girl, and all the passengers money and you take your cuoice. It is a ka-heard her. They had not yet left the most. The Irian comedian, with red hair, the at home, so they did not mind her. everlasting tramp, the decollete girls who appear at a race track, and the perpetual sport- little girl a moment later. been hallowed by tradition, and they will

The star of "A Straight Tip "-of course there is a star-is James T. Powers, who is difference. "I want a drink of more in his element than he was at the Casino water," repeated the little girl, grow-He had to say rouringly funny th ngs, which were dragged in by the company, who acred Powers's work was just like of the "end man." He prefaced most of his jokes with "I had a dream "——, or " i.ast night I met "——, or "That reminds me of "——, and so on.

The best member of the company was lichard Gorman, who was far more convincing in his way of grinding out fun then was ir. Powers. Gorman's humor seems to be spontaneous, and he is sedate and at times artistic. Powers always appeared to be waiting to "spring" his funny answer to the question that was put to him, and he looked thoroughly uncomfortable when Emma Hanley The musical part of "A Straight Tip" consisted principally of meulevs. Would it be too much to ask of farce-comegy producers just a little more original music to take away the favor of the old tokes ? ALAN DALE.

NOT A SUDDEN AVOWAL.

The Maiden Expected It from External Appearances. " The suddenness of my avowal, Miss Piukie," the young man said, feverishly, according to the Chicago Tribune, " may have taken you by surprise." "No. I cannot say "---"It is true I had no right to address you in such terms. You had given me no reason to hope that you looked upon me in any other light than that of a friend. Yet I was carried away. I acted on impulse. I-I made a fool of myself." The young woman nodded.

Yet I did not surprise you?"

She shook her head.

'H'm! I am at a loss to understand ou, Miss Pinkie. Maddened by your inoxicating beauty, I lost control of myself. I presumed upon an acquaintance of only a few weeks and declared a pasion that I ought to have held in check.

sion that I ought to have held in check. Your prompt rejection of my suit is a merited rebuke to my sudacity. Yet I have endeavored to soften the blow by the reflection that I was only premature—that I took you unawarss—that I surprised you. And you say I did not?"

"You did not."

"Then, Pinkie Billmore," he exclaimed, "have you been trifling with me? Have you artfully led me to a declaration for the sole purpose of rejecting me acornfully? I never breathed a word of love until this evening. I have studiously concealed my feelings. How does it happen," he went on holding tightly to the back of a chair saif to steady himself, "that my sudden burst of passion did not take you by surprise?"

himself. 'that my sudden burst of pas-sion did not take you by surprise?"

"Because, Mr. Longshot." gently re-plied the young woman, in whose lovely bue eyes, moist with a tender sympathy, there shone the clear light of truth itself, "because I saw when you came in that you had a tremendous jag on."

SHE WAS PARTICULAR.

Past Experience Had Made Her

Careful of Hubby's Wrath. "I want to ask you a question," she said to the clerk in the fish store, says the Detroit Free Press. "An oyster has two shells ?"

"They are served on the half shell?" · ' Yes'm."

"Yes'm."
"Which shell is it?"
"Why, I don't know as they make any difference which shell it is."
"Isn't there a difference?"
"I don't think so."
"I thought there must be," she continued, with a look of disappointment.
"My husband raised Ned this morning because he got his left sock on his right foot through my carelessness, and I wanted to see if he was as careful about his oysters." his oysters.

A Devoted Son-in-Law.

[From Texas Syttings.]
Count de Vermicelii, an Italian nobleman now in New York, is engaged to be married to Miss Maud Snobberly on Fifth avenue. One of the a nests at a recent social gathering at the Snooberly mansion asked old Mrs. Snooberly—she used to be a servant girl—bow she liked for prospective son-in-law.

"Me and Mr. Snooberly are both tickled to death with Count de Vermicell, and the way ne is stuck on Mand is a sin. You can't have any idea of how the Count dotes on that girl. Everything in the world that he imagines ahe wants he makes us buy for her."

SUNSET AVE. ATOWN AND THE WAY THE TATE OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PR

If these lots had not been adertised in WORLD "Wants" they would be unsold to-day.

WORLD "Wants" will transform a barren wilderness into a beautiful and busy town in a few months; they have done it in a dozen instances.

In 1886 THE WORLD published 115,841 "Real Estate" and 'Houses Wanted" "Wants;" last year THE WORLD published 152,-440 "Wants" in the same classifications.

A WORLD "Want," the "little leaven that leaveneth the whole going to get married. lamp."

How a Naughty Little Girl Behaved on the Train.

be commended, and some of its lines are At First She Hadn't a Friend but After a Sleep All Loved Her.

"I don't want my bonnet off," said leidoscopic noten-potch, in which every one depot in the great city, and most of the people and amilien of their own "I want a drink of water," said the ing men are all there. These characters have ple could hear her mother saying something in a low tone, and they all knew the water tank was at the farther end of the car, but that didn't make any ing louder and louder each till her mother got up and led her down the long nisle, past people who were just disposing themselves, and so on to the tank. When they came back a young man had taken their seat and the mother had to move up a little way.

"Why don't he let us sit there?" demanded the little girl, with an accent on the relative pronoun which became general arraignment of the culprit. "I don't want to look out of the window," she continued. "There isn't anything to see. Why don't the train go on?"

Her tones were so shrill and penetrating that no one could forget her even for a moment. "There is a man with apples. I want an apple."

They could hear the mother talking again in that same soft tone, but the little girl was relentless. "I want some of his apples." She was so persistent about it that the mother bought a basket of fruit of the station boy who passed through the train just before it started, and of the station boy who passed through the train just before it started, and sold at a crushing price whatever he had to offer.

When the train was under way they hoped they had heard the last of her; hut all of a sadden she declared her intention of sitting on the other side of the car. There was no vacant seat there, but that made no difference and she kept up the complaining till a young man got up and went forward, giving her the vacant seat and wishing she might fall out of the window.

But even this surrender did not satisfy her long. She wanted the blind down and the curfain up; she wanted her mother to buy a book when the train flend came around; she wanted more fruit from the basket and she wanted another drink. She was so constant that every sound of her voice, and said: "Drat the young one, anyway," When she went up for a third drink of water she stumbled and fell. It couldn't have hurt her much, but she screamed and eried, and got up groging her way back to the seat, her yellow hair tangled and her face all smeared with orange Juice and candy and dust, her clothing rumpled and her pinafore soiled, and her mouth wide open under the streaming eyes.

And she hadn't a friend in the car.
But after that she went to sieep. The nervous woman at the front of the car gasped her relief, and the heavy

And sae hadn't a friend in the car.

But after that she went to sleep.
The nervous woman at the front of the car gasped her relief, and the heavy man who had two seats grunted his satisfaction and glared around as if words were useless in the face of such freedom from annoyance. The young man who sat by the young woman in the middle of the car said "Thank God!" and hoped the child might never wake up. And the poor tired mother smoothed the pillow and sat in the littlest bit of the end of the seat, and tucked the cloak about her darling, and kept very still lest she should be disturbed.

It was nearly two house after the seat of the way house after the car.

disturbed.

It was nearly two hours after when she waked up. At first no one knew her sleep had ended. Then they began to be aware of a silvery little voice, of a waking but comforting presence, and they found it was that same little girl. The persons woman looked girl. The nervous woman looked around and saw her cooling to mother, and patting her face and nestling close against her—

Deep where the heart-throbs sink and swell.

And she murmured, "The dear little thing."

The large man watched her quite a while, and wondered if she would come and ride with him. The trip was a struggle between her desire for the intellegrowing very tedious. The young man sitting with the young woman reached over the back of the seat and handed her a vegetable ivory toy, with red and blue bangles, the last one left in the train flend's box.

She got up after a time and went forward falteringly, clinging to the ends of the seats and smilling in every one's face, her cheeks bright with some mysterious washing, her eyes alight with restfulness and health, her apron spick and span and her yellow hair falling in the sweetest of waves and her pleasant voice telling them her name was Mina and she was going to gran'ma's.

And every on ein the car was her.

The professor accepted the amendment, and the principal sent for one of the job lost of small boys that were studying in an adjoining room.

"Here is one of my boys, professor." saidthe principal as the lad entered; "you may examine him."

The professor looked at the youngster a moment, then said admiringly: 'This boy has a fine face and a noble head. He And she murmured, "The dear little gran'ma's.

And every on ein the car was her friend.

HE WAS HONEST.

But It Was Force of Circumstances that Made Him So.

A newsboy about a foot and a half high tossed a cent up on the Chicago Tribune's counter yesterday marning. "Dere's de cent I owed ye 'while ago," he said. "You are an honest boy," replied the clerk, shoving the coin back. "You may keep it." 'Here's another to keep it company." replied a bystander, taking a cent from his pocket and handing it to him. "Now you'll go and shoot craps, I suppose." I don't shoot craps, "said the youngster.

"You don't? Then here's some more;" and the bystander gave him a dime.

"No. I don't ever shoot craps," said the boy, pocketing the money. "I ain't old 'nough yit. De other kids won't let me."

Donated the Hanging. (From Brooklyn Life.)
"What became of Hank Bitters?" asked a man who had left Oklahoma a year ago, of one who had just come from there.

"Hank? Oh, he's dead."
"Yaum! Just as I expected! Of course he came to some bad end? Give a rascai rope enough and he'll hang himself, you know."
"Wal, it wasn't exactly that way with Hank. The boys gave him rope enough an' sorter throwed in the hangin."

His Fortune Made. [From Barpers' Basson.] Screed.-All your stories seem to go with the women, Quili. Would you mind giving me the secret?
Quill (in a whisper)—I always write the last chapters first.

(From the Epoch.)
First Bohemian—Well, old fellow, I won't have any use for my pipe before long. I'm Second Bohemian-Yes, 1 see, You take to

A Change of Consolation.

HE SUFFERED FOURTEEN YEARS

WITH CHRONIC CATARRE, WHICH WITHSTOOD THE EFFORTS OF PROMINENT PHYSICIANS.

John Konan, of This City. Tells How He Had Been Afflicted and How Ho Was Ultimately Cored of

Chronic Catarrh. She was just a little girl, and her mother sat down in a seat near the door of the car and put her parcels around where they would lie without failing and then loosened the strings of her honest are as a string and the loosened the strings of her honest are stated. Another young man, who has suffered from a lotthcome case of Catarth for fouriese past, has been speedily and thoroughly cured. He is 28 pears of sag, and at present has the appearance as study, healthy young working man, and doesn't look as it he had were seen a sick day.

His name is John Konan, and he lives with his street. He works in a mill at Astoria. A few days ago he made the following statement to a reperior concerning his case.

JOHN KONAN, 107 FAST 88TH ST., NEW YORK.

"I have been thoroughly cured of a very bad case of catairh of fourteen years standing by Doctors McCoy, Wildman and Blair. When the disease first manifested itself I motiod a stoppase in my nose and throat, and this gradually grew worse until the model of the property of the standard of the property of the standard of the standard termined to take treatment from them. Ne perfectly cursed. I gained fifteen pounds the first three weeks of my treatment und hands. I cordially recommend suffers cotarrh to go to them and be cured." 86 A WONTH UNTIL PEB. 1. Doctors McCor, Wildman and Slair have decide to treat all cases of catarrh coming to them befor Feb. 1, 1891, at the low rate of five dollars month until jured and furnish all medicines. The offices are 5 East 42d st., 92 5th are, 853 Broad way, corner 14th st., New York, and 187 Montagu st., Brooklyn.

DOCTORS McCOY, WILDMAN and BLAIR, 5 EAST 42D ST., NEW YORK CITY,

BROADWAY, cor. 14th Mt., N. Y. City, a Domestic Sewing-Machine Company's building: 187 MONTAGUE ST., BROOKLYN, Opposite Academy of Music.

Where all cursble diseases are treated with success. Bpecialties: Catarty, all throat and cheef diseases, all neevous diseases, chronic diseases. If you live at a distance write for a symptom blank. Address all mail to 5 East 426 st. Office hours—9 to 11 A. M. 210 4 P. M. 7 to 9 P. M. daily. Sundays 9 to 11 A. M. and 2 to 4 P. M.

Near Grand Central Depot, 92 5TH AVE. Near 14th St., NEW YORK;

Furniture Bargains for the Economical In a large business like ours there is a constant we have stopped making, samples that have served their purpose—taking up the room we shall seen need for new goods. We prefer, therefore, to sell At any price they will bring, and so HAVE MARKED THEM IN PLAIN FIGURES LOWER THAN AUCTION RATES. Every sticle is PERFECT. WELL, MADE AND WARRANTED TO NEITHER WARP

"BUY OF THE MAKER."

GEO. C. FLINT CO., FURNITURE MAKERS.

104, 106, 108 WEST 14TH ST.

THE PHRENOLOGIST'S ERROR

An Old Maid Offended and a Lecture Postponed. "To err is human " and even phrenologists are human. One of them visited a school presided over by a maiden lady a few days ago and expressed a desire to examine the heads of some of the fair pupils and deliver a lecture to the others pupils and deliver a lecture to the others, says the Memphis Appeal-Acalanche.

The principal was willing that her pupils should have the advantage of hearing a scientific discourse on skullology, but her soul rose up in revolt at the idea of a moment, then said admiringly: 'This boy has a fine face and a noble head. He is the image of his mother. Is he your oldest, madame?'

The principal cast a strong glare on the professor and replacified.

professor and replied icily:
'I am unmarried, sir.' The professor turned red in the face and began stammering out an excuse, but the principal relieved him by saying that she would prefer for him to deliver his lecture on another day.

And the ewe lambs never smiled till after school.

LOOKING AHEAD.

Not a Doctor but a Snake Charmet Was Wanted, Early the other morning a newly married man arrived home in a state of mild inebriation, says the Pitte-burg Dispatch. His wife beheld his irregular progress up the stairs and was alarmed. She had no acquaintance with such phenomena.

"George," she said, "what is the matter? You are ill, I know."

By that time he had reached the landing outside his bedroom where his wife stood.

"Shall I send for doctor, George!"
she asked, as she took him by the arm and steadled him.

"No, my d-d-dear, I don' wan' a dector; but it," and he waved his hand,
"these s-symptoms don't change may s-s-send for a snake charmer!" Mutual Lack of Confidence. "I will have to owe you a dime," said Schuler

Jowett to the tobacconist, as he bit off the end of a cigar.

"But I haven't got confidence in you to that extect. You will have to leave that diamond pin as collateral."

"That diamond pin is wo th $1.50, and I haven't got confid ace in you to that extent," replied Schuler, as he strolled out into Broadway puffing his cheap cigar.

Father and Son. Miss Huron-Have you any new books by

Dumas ? Attendant—Free or Als t
Miss tiuren.—Way, haven't you anything by Alexandre t

stries below the Harrem is not the dance. "But, managed dance." I dance. " 1 of for et St. Vitus"."

GIBIER AND HYDROPHOBIA. Dr. PAUL GIBIER, of the Pasteur Institute, 150 for treating the latter's son. The boy bitten by a dog and taken to Dr. GIBIER. He was injected and treated by thought the amount exorbitant, insisted that the lad was never in danger of hydro-

The Stewart bill for Rapid Transit sed in the Senate yesterday by a unanius vote. An effort was made to have the ous "Section 83" stricken from the all, but the effort failed. Senator Ives, who was responsible for its presence in the as would vote against the bill. Such artling remark, startling not so much as lation as an open avowal made in the ond or by the New York Central "would ere should not have been some strong on of such an evil in the State Legislature by some high-minded, incorrupt The chance for abuse in this section restr with the Rapid Transit Commissioners who sthorized to permit the laying of addi-parks or pleasure-drives. But when is such an opportunity for driving as me, it does not seem quite right to put ries of money into a drive along the adson when the Annexed District is so hadly in need of road improvement.

pled wires to deal with. Happily

THE WORLD: THURSDAY EVENING, JANUARY 29, 1891.

If onlone are to be used for sauce, sturing, or to be boiled or baked, take off the outer akina, and let them come to the boil in water in which as much carbonate of soda as will fill water. After eating unions that have not been

"The 'sweater' pays so much a day, usually

Florence M. Adkinson unintentionally does

Bright Boy—Six hours. My passys so. Teacher—Dear me, how is that possible? Bright Boy—re went from New York to Bos-on in a Fullman car.

INVANTS too ted with MONELL's TERREING CON-

Father Van Rensselaer is very proud and men. He has reason to be. It sup, he an evident need. It is a little hard on young fellows to feel that the courch and its minister are prompt in seeing the dangers of such ento furnish them with entertainments or clear ures which are free from mal go influences Fat er Van Ren-seiner has done this, and this neld of work is a very worthy one. Tale young priest, who is a member of one of the most relatives reall bowling swells, is attracted towards the poor and lowly, th ugh heaven knows! he could find need enough for evan-art honors an opportunity to study abread. It is a commendable scheme and reflects credit on Mr. Chanier.

Judge P. Henry Dugro, of the Superior

States official and to the dignity of his position Some time ago I mentioned the fact that George Sweet, the baritone, was one of those proper encouragement and judicious managenent. Mr. Sweet tells me that be is thinking of putting into operation very shortly a novel quartet, and he is certain that there is any quantity of good material in this country, e would willingly devote part of his time me I am taking too much risk and responsi

Fruit Is a Remedy.

Oradually give way to Hood's Barsaparille, a act that thousands of sufferers have been cured

100 DUSES ONE DOLLAR